

April Showers Bring Consortium Power with Literati Book Fairs

Don't let the April showers put a damper on your day—embrace the power of Literati Book Fairs! With a dynamic and diverse book selection, you can be confident that your students will have access to an exciting variety of stories that ignite their imaginations and foster a lifelong love of reading.

The Power of Curated Book Selection

Literati Book Fairs are intentionally designed to drive your school's sales while introducing young readers to books they may not have discovered otherwise. Our children's literature experts collaborate with over 150 publishers to curate compelling, well-crafted stories that will resonate with students. By analyzing sales trends, we ensure that the right mix of books arrives at your fair, maximizing engagement and success.

Online Favorites: More Than Just Books

Thanks to several exciting new partnerships, our online selection has expanded to include a wider array of activities, educational games, STEM kits, and books. Perennial favorites like Dog Man and The Baby-Sitters Club are just a click away! Families can shop for these online favorites all year long, with some orders shipping directly to homes and others shipping to school for free during the online book fair window.

Bringing the Power to Your School

April showers may bring flowers, but Literati Book Fairs bring the power of choice, accessibility, and excitement to young readers. With a thoughtfully curated selection, seamless online shopping, and engaging book fair experiences, your school will bloom with literacy and learning opportunities all season long.
